Dear Parent(s)/Guardian(s),

Greetings! We hope this finds you well and that the early part of the school year has gone well for you and your child(ren). The environment in our schools is very important for all of us. As the school year has gotten underway, efforts are being made at each building to ensure safe, orderly, and mutually respectful environments. We all need to communicate and model the values and beliefs that our schools will not tolerate bullying activity of any kind. These efforts are vital to ensuring a learning environment that fosters learning for all!

As part of our efforts here in the early part of the year, we want to communicate a few items regarding these matters to you so that you can help support our efforts in developing a healthy and positive atmosphere at school. October is National Anti-Bullying Month, and as part of the Jessica Logan Act, schools are required to send notification to parents.

Bullying is a serious problem in schools throughout Ohio and the rest of the country that may have lasting negative effects on people. The seriousness of this has led to the passage of legislation and a greater focus on bullying in our state’s and nation’s schools.

With this in mind, please know that acts of bullying that occur at school or school-related events will lead to consequences, up to and including suspension from school. Additionally, bullying has expanded to the realm of social media. Electronic bullying is just as serious as face-to-face bullying and will also lead to consequences up to and including suspension from school.

As we build our awareness about this important matter, we will work towards preventing it so that everyone is treated with dignity, class, and respect.

Thank you for partnering with us in this important matter!

Sincerely,

The London City Schools’ Administrative Team
